

FEAR BEAG A' CHRIDHE MHÒIR

THE LITTLE ONE OF THE BIG HEART

The Life and Legacy of Calum I. Maclean (1915–1960)

Supported by:

The University of Edinburgh's
CHSS Knowledge Exchange
Scheme

Arts and Humanities
Research Council's
Follow-on Fund

Acknowledgements:

- The MacLean family
- Skye and Lochalsh Archive Centre
- Centre for Research Collections, University of Edinburgh
- School of Scottish Studies Archives
- National Folklore Collection / Cnuasach Bhéaloideas Éireann, University College Dublin
- Canna House Archive, National Trust of Scotland
- National Library of Scotland
- Licensed under Creative Commons
- Tobar an Dualchais / Kist o Riches
- Jim Burgess
- Uppsala University
- Gordon Wright

Website: www.celtscot.ed.ac.uk/calum-maclean
Facebook: www.facebook.com/calumiainmaclean
Blog: calumimaclean.blogspot.co.uk
Twitter: twitter.com/CalumIMaclean or @CalumIMaclean
Email: calum-maclean@ed.ac.uk

...a' beothachadh na cuimhne aosda le coimhneas is le spòrs.

...kindling ancient memory with kindness and fun.

[Sorley MacLean's Cumha Chaluum Iain MhicGill-Eain / Elegy for Calum Iain Maclean]

